Chinese Brigands Demand Big Sums In Ransom For Men

Captives Include Eight Americans—Two Dead and Two More Escaped—Captives Classified, According to Financial Means.

(By The Associated Press)
SHANGHAI, May 8.—Fifteen foreigners, all men, eight of them Americans, still are in the hands of the Soochow train bandits, according to a list compiled here today. Two others escaped and have reached Tsinanfu. Two lives were lost, Joseph Rothmann, British, shot down at the scene of the holdup and one unidentified American killed Monday in fighting between bandits and pursuing troops. Two Chinese who escaped said that the captives were marched ten miles to the hills and were satisfied the chief-tain as to their worth.

After questioning them it was decided to hold foreigners for $50,000 ransom each, Chinese of the first class for $30,000 each, those of the second class for $10,000 and those held of lower value for $2,000.

A Chinese newspaper reported that its Sunday editor was captured and released. The bandits are said to be splitting into groups with their captives and are scattering to the hills 20 miles from the railway.

STEPS TO BE TAKEN TO SECURE RELEASE OF CAPTIVES

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 8.—The council of ministers in Peking has decided to make urgent representations to the Chinese government and represent that punitive measures be taken by it to secure the release of foreigners still held captive by Chinese bandits who held up the Shanghai express Sunday.

Reports from Minister Schurman telling of the council's decision were received at the state department where it was said that the council efforts would be awaited before independent representations are renewed by the government. The United States government would prefer to act in concert with other powers represented by the council it was said rather than pursue a separate course. Minister Schurman reported that the bandits had released all women but still held 14 men for ransom.

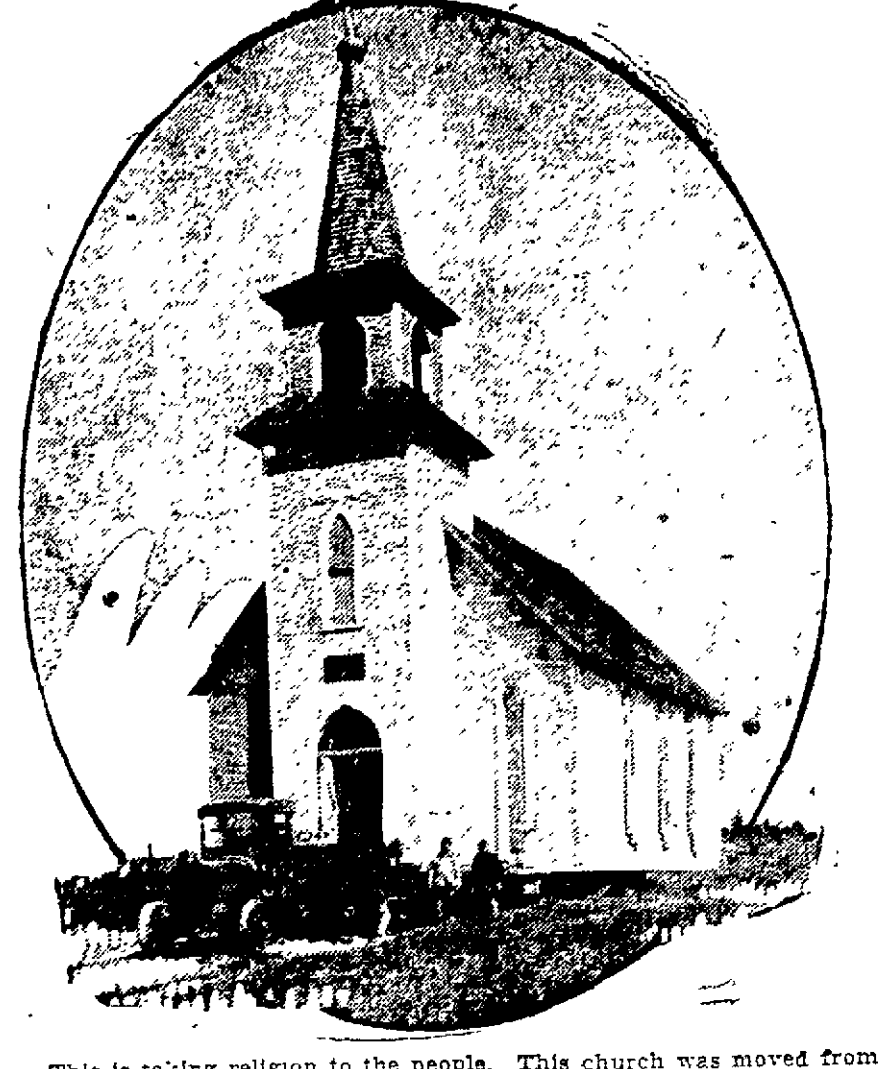

RICHMOND MINISTER BELIEVED AMONG CAPTIVES

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., May 8.—The F. W. Pratt mentioned in despatches from Shanghai as being among the foreigners held captive by the Soochow train bandits, is believed to be the Rev. Frank W. Pratt, pastor of the First Unitarian church of this city. Mr. Pratt was given a leave of absence from his church here on April 15, 1922, and was married in Boston to Mrs. Bracken the following month. They left on a honeymoon trip around the world soon after. Two weeks ago a letter was received from him then in India saying he intended to visit China and Japan. Mr. Pratt has a son by a former marriage at the Harvard Medical School and a daughter, Miss Theresa Pratt, of Columbia University.

135 Gallons Rum Captured on Road In a Hudson Car

According to the Schoolfield police one of Danville's most prominent bootleggers sustained the loss of his seven passenger Hudson car and 135 gallons of liquor last night on the River Road, just on the outskirts of the city. The bootlegger, after a long chase jumped out of his car and ran, losing himself in the tangled undergrowth on the river bank.

Chief of Police L. W. Cole and Officer J. E. Rice were out on the Martinsville road on a scouting expedition last night. About four miles from this city they met a Hudson car approaching Danville. The officers recognized the driver as a notorious bootlegger, turned their car around and gave chase. The driver saw the maneuver and sped up. He was unable to throw the officers off on the four-mile stretch and fearing to enter the city, he slowed down, jumped out of the car, hopped a barbed wire fence and made for the river. The officers gave chase, but were unable to catch their man.

When they returned to the car they found 135 gallons of Henry County's best mountain dew in five gallon tin containers.

SWEET BRIAR MAY DAY EXERCISES

May day at Sweet Briar College was celebrated on Friday with unusual beauty and effectiveness. Never has the campus looked more lovely than this year, the white dogwood is in full blossom and the red bud gives a note of "brilliance to the usual green of the spring foliage. As usual the college was crowded with visitors for May Day. Parents and guests from all over the country occupied the new inn, or were comfortably placed in the neighborhood. The invitations for the crowning of the May queen are limited, as the boxwood circle, where this celebration is held, is comparatively small. About three or four hundred people, however, filled the porch and windows of Sweet Briar house, all relatives or intimate friends of the students.

The May queen this year, Virginia Stanbery, of Sistersville, W. Va., is a most lovely young woman with dark hair and eyes and exquisite profile. The members of her court were as follows:

To the song of "Roses, Red Roses," a song written for the occasion years ago by Miss Caroline Crawford, formerly of Sweet Briar—the "Ladies of the Court" advanced two by two to the throne. Last of all came Miss Stanbery, preceded by her maid of honor, Miss Clare Robertson, of Emporia, Va.

The May pole dance was gayly and effectively engaged in. Later Miss Lorna Weber as Spring, danced a beautiful solo dance before the queen. The music for this dance and for the pageant was played by Mrs. A. W. Knowl, of Raleigh, N. C.

The pageant in the dell was open to all the friends of the college and numbers of Amherst and Lynchburg people came over for this occasion at 4 o'clock.

—Mrs. Louis Kaufman left yesterday for a two week visit with relatives in Richmond.

Is Your Boy Worst Than You? Even Experts Can't Decide

BETTER or worse? Are Danville children as good—or as bad!—as in the days when you were a kid? Even experts disagree on what's happening to young Americans. What do you think about it? And what do your youngsters think?

Children of today are much better, says John C. Collins, founder of the first boys club and a juvenile worker for half a century. Wrong, they're worse, says Miss Martha Byrne, only woman secretary to a city department of correction.

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
(Special to The Bee.)

NEW YORK, May 8.—"Boys and girls of today are much worse than they have ever been before," declares Martha Byrne, secretary to the New York Department of Correction and the only woman in the country holding such a position.

"I am living in the same neighborhood," says Miss Byrne, "where I lived as a child."

But 20 years ago you never saw a child on the streets after seven o'clock. Today you see youngsters of 11 and 12 out on the streets until midnight.

"Twenty years ago the parents ruled the children. Today the children rule the parents. If a parent said 'No' the child obeyed. Today the child laughs at him."

"Twenty years ago a child knew definite things he could do, and what things he could not do. Today he gets in all kinds of mischief, with no one to say him 'No,' and his mischief frequently lands him before the police judge."

Added to the child that Miss Byrne blames, nor even his parent, "it is the struggle for existence that is responsible," she declares.

"This struggle houses people together in crowded tenements and throws the children in the streets to play."

"It takes not only the father but the mother out of the home and leaves the child without a protector. It leaves the father and mother aware when night comes that they have neither the will nor the ability to find out what the child is doing and guide him in his needs."

"It sends the child to the movies for diversion and these movies suggest to him the child an unbelievable sophistication."

"This is the problem of the child of the foreign-born. The child goes to American schools and learns to look down on his parents and their country ways. Dismissing the old standards and as yet understanding little of the new he very frequently gets into trouble."

"The child of today is better educated than he has ever been before. But he stands very terribly in need of wholesome discipline."

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
(Special to The Bee.)

NEW YORK, May 8.—"Even the worst boys and girls of today are as angels compared to the best of a generation or two ago."

This is the opinion of John C. Collins, who probably has done more work among juveniles than any other social worker. He has been doing organized and personal work with boys for 49 years.

"But to make them even better," he says, "there should be an eight o'clock curfew all over the country. They have it in New Haven, Conn. where I organized the first mass boys' club in the world. It works wonders. Children, unaccompanied by their elders, are kept out of movie theaters after six o'clock."

"Since the enforcement of this measure in New Haven, a city of 75,000, the number of juvenile arrests has been cut 60 to 70 per cent. All this in less than eight years."

"Boys all need direction, but it should be gentle and not force. Gangsters are made by the police and others using force methods."

"All boys and girls are good to begin with and can be kept good if the right effort is made for them. Conditions aren't as bad as they used to be. More children are getting a square deal at home, in the schools on the streets. But even so, there are still too many delinquents."

On horseback, walk tight ropes and do other seemingly impossible tricks. The bears have been trained to perfection by Jawn Heilert, the official Hagenbeck trainer in the United States and their teaching required much time and patience by the noted animal instructor.

Circus Day activities will be inaugurated by the grand, gorgeous street parade of more than a mile in length, which is scheduled to leave the circus grounds at 11 a. m. and proceed over the principal business streets.

NEW FAMILY IN CITY.
The Rev. C. D. Oley and family, of Spray, N. C., moved to this city last week and are at present on Lee street. They expect to make Danville their permanent home. Mr. Oley is a minister of the Christian church.

Philadelphia newspapers recently published a story that the zoo in that city boasted of the world's reading city and editors overlooked the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus, which carries a quintet of wrestling bears, that could make thinks interesting for the "Strangler" Lewis Joe Stecher, Zerk, or any of the other top notch heavyweights.

When the Hagenbeck circus appears here on Friday May 11 afternoon and night, circus lovers will have an opportunity to witness thrilling and sensational wrestling bouts between the bears and their human trainers. "Prince," a large Russian bear weighing in the neighborhood of 200 pounds is the most voracious of these animals, and his opponent James Deag, is forced to constantly be on the alert to prevent dangerous falls.

In addition to their wrestling ability, the bears also display themselves in a hooting corn and Presto! The pain stops at once, forever. Soon the corn loosens from the true foot and falls out of the corn with the fingers root and all complete. Money back guarantee. Costs but a trifle everywhere. E. Lawrence & Co., Mfr., Chicago. A QUESTION MARK WITH TWO SIDES, DISCUSSED BY MISS MARTHA BYRNE, SECRETARY OF NEW YORK DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTION (LEFT) AND JOHN C. COLLINS, FOUNDER OF NEW HAVEN FRIENDS OF BOYS.

There should be and need be no prisons. We can do away with 50 per cent. of them, by work among juveniles through The Friends of Boys, which New York Police Commissioner Enright calls a barricade across the path that leads boys to prison.

This work was started in New Haven 16 years ago. Since then the movement has spread through New England. Recently it reached New York where it has been received with favor by police, educators, parents and boys, and works in voluntary association semi-officially with the New York Police Department.

"In Ansonia, Conn.," says Collins, "a factory town of 17,000, which had been overrun with so-called bad boys, we cut out nine-tenths of the juvenile delinquency in less than three years."

As much can be done in almost any community.

CLIMAX IN CAR THEFT CASES

and his attitude which, since his arrest and extradition as been one of trying to make restitution insofar as his memory permitted him.

While Jennings' car was expected to be dealt with during the morning it remained for the grand jury to indict him and the simple plea of guilty could not be heard until the papers could be prepared. The state also was desirous of putting Jennings before the grand jury, and did so, the grand jury a short while later returning another indictment against W. M. Snead charging him with stealing his own Chandler car in 1921.

There are now ten indictments against Snead whose case will be called on May 21st. He appeared in court yesterday and was bound in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance on that day J. H. Osborne being his security. Snead is also under $10,000 bond for appearance in court on June 15th.

Just what Snead intends to do is uncertain. The state is prepared to try him on the charge that he contributed to the theft of Alex Koon's car or it could try him on the Chandler car theft. It was currently reported yesterday that Snead pleaded guilty to these two indictments, the report further, being that he would get between two and three years but there was no confirmation of this from his counsel and enquiries of the commonwealth's attorney failed to reveal any understanding.

It took fifteen minutes to arraign Jennings and to hear him plead of guilty yesterday. Oris Bradley clerk of the court read the verbose indictments and Jennings promptly replied, "Guilty," to the clerk's "How say you?"

The charges to which the noted High Point man pleaded guilty are that in May 1921 he stole a Ford touring car valued at $600 from Alex Koon in Davidson County, N. C., that in August 1921, he stole a Ford touring car valued at $525 from Harding Brothers of Emporia at Petersburg, that in September, 1921, he stole from Fred H. Curran, at Oxford, N. C., a Ford touring car valued at $625, that in July, 1921 he stole a Ford coupe valued at $725 belonging to E. B. Clanton at Charlotte, N. C., a Ford touring model valued at $625 from E. H. Jaworski, that on May 1921 he stole a $600 Ford touring car from J. A. Henderson at Charlotte, N. C., and that in June 1921, he stole a Ford roadster valued at $400 belonging to J. M. Dean at Spartanburg, S. C. The other indictments alleged that Jennings had defrauded the Springfield Fire and Marine Insurance Company of Massachusetts out of $1,920 in collecting insurance collected by W. M. Snead on a car which Snead had insured and which he represented as being stolen also that in August, 1921.

He stole $1,920 from the Tokio Marine Insurance Company collected by C. A. Framer on a car alleged to have been stolen.

After pleading guilty he was remanded into custody and will probably be taken to Richmond within the next few days.

PAW PAW CALLED THE PERFECT DIGESTER

Scientist Explains Its Tonic Effect Upon the System, Saying It Makes Dyspepsia Impossible.

In condensed form, the following is what Professor Willard H. Morse, M. D., F. R. S., a Fellow of the London Society of Science, wrote to Robert Halford, an eminent therapist:

"Munyon's Paw Paw is scientific in that it properly presents to the materia medica—the medical profession and to the sick and suffering the active principle of the fruit of the carapaya (Paw Paw) in its most eligible form."

"It accomplishes digestion surely and perfectly. It makes the most of the food. Makes the best of the food. Assures perfect assimilation. It perfects the several fluids that have to do with digestion and makes dyspepsia impossible."

"Munyon's Paw Paw disposes of from the blood all acidity or poisons, because the blood made from the food treated by Paw Paw is a true vital fluid, which refuses to contain the acids, germs or poisonous taints, and as most diseases arise from impure blood, it makes all of them impossible."

CORNS—stop their pain in one minute!

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads protect while they heal—wholly new method. Absolutely safe!

Corns are due to only one cause—friction-pressure. Heretofore, corn-sufferers have ignored this.

They have risked infection by cutting their own corns, or they have used corrosive acids to eat away the dead tissue, frequently with damaging results to the surrounding live tissue.

A famous foot specialist's new discovery

Now Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the eminent foot specialist, has found in Zino-pads a vastly better way, a scientific way, to end corn troubles—by removing the cause.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads not only stop the pain the minute applied but they protect the corn from pressure and friction while they heal! They are easy to apply, are thin, antiseptic, waterproof. Absolutely safe; will not injure the tenderest toe.

Special sizes for callouses and bunions, too. Try Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. Nothing like them. At your druggist's or shoe dealer's.

CORNS—stop their pain in one minute!

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads protect while they heal—wholly new method. Absolutely safe!

Corns are due to only one cause—friction-pressure. Heretofore, corn-sufferers have ignored this.

A famous foot specialist's new discovery

Now Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the eminent foot specialist, has found in Zino-pads a vastly better way, a scientific way, to end corn troubles—by removing the cause.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads not only stop the pain the minute applied but they protect the corn from pressure and friction while they heal! They are easy to apply, are thin, antiseptic, waterproof. Absolutely safe; will not injure the tenderest toe.

Special sizes for callouses and bunions, too. Try Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. Nothing like them. At your druggist's or shoe dealer's.

Negro Attorneys Fighting V.M.I.

Employment in the Damage Suit by Dismissed Teacher Causes Ferment—First Instance in State.

LEXINGTON, Va., May 7.—The legal profession of Rockbridge county is in a ferment of indignation and excitement today because two negro attorneys have been engaged to prosecute the damage suit of Prof. Robert A. Kerlin against the Virginia Military Institute, of this city. Professor Kerlin was summarily dismissed from the institute over a year ago after he had written an open letter to the governor of Arkansas asking clemency for six negroes of that state who were sentenced to death for the part they were alleged to have taken in the Elaine race riots. He is now a teacher of English at the State Normal School at West Chester, Pa.

Never before has a negro attorney represented a white man in the courts of this state. Professor Kerlin, however, has as his leading counsel William F. Denny, a negro from Richmond, and his associate counsel is B. Frank Harris, a negro attorney of Petersburg. Moreover, these two colored men are prosecuting a suit for $50,000 damages against one of the oldest preparatory schools in the south, located side by side with the Washington and Lee University, over which Gen. Robert E. Lee once presided.

The trial will open in the Circuit court of Rockbridge county tomorrow morning, with Judge McYemore, of Suffolk, Va., presiding. Judge Holt, the regular circuit judge of this county, was disqualified from presiding at this trial because he is an alumnus of the Virginia Military Institute and admitted a prejudice in favor of his alma mater.

As soon as Professor Kerlin's letter became public the board of visitors of the Virginia Military Institute met and called him to account for writing it. He maintained his right to defend the negroes and to express his opinions freely and called attention to a long record of efforts on his part in bringing about spiritual and economic improvement of colored people.

Professor Kerlin was dismissed from the board meeting without learning what his fate would be, but a few hours later he was notified by letter of his summary dismissal, and was advised to vacate his home on the campus. In his declaration Professor Kerlin charges that he was damaged by being forced to vacate his home, of which he was person, ally the owner, and that the school officials damaged his reputation by publishing articles about him which caused him great inconvenience and made it impossible for him to secure a position as teacher in any other southern institution of learning.

Good Morning Judge!

When the owner of a fine collie dog allows the animal to be picked up on the street and be put in the dog pound and the canine is later purchased by another man, to whom does the animal really belong? This was the question which came up in the police court this morning when a warrant against Jules Mundy, charged with stealing his own dog, was heard, the charge having been brought by Lonnie K. Motley, who had purchased the dog from the city at expiration of the time when such animals are usually shot. The court did not decide the case, the warrant being dismissed, whereupon Mundy took civil action against Motley.

It was about two years ago that Mundy allowed his dog to run at large on the street without muzzle or tag and was picked up by the police and put in the dog pound to await the fate of other unfortunate canines—to be shot. The 48-hour limit expired and C. C. Travis, realizing that it was too fine a dog to be killed, tried to find an owner, which resulted in Motley buying the collie for $2.50 plus a fee for keeping it four days. The collie soon made friends with the Motley family and seemed very well contented. The other day Mundy saw the dog, identified it, and took it home. This resulted in Motley, who claims he is the rightful owner, procuring a warrant against Mundy. It was said that an interpretation of the law shows Motley to be the rightful owner but Mundy declares that it was a matter of his dog becoming lost. He says he advertised for it. He has offered to reimburse Motley but the latter prefers the dog. Hence the civil action.

The cases of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Currie and J. M. Terrell, charged with violating the Mapp act, were disposed of this morning. Currie was fined $51 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail and the warrants against Mrs. Currie and Terrell were dismissed. The charges were the result of a raid several days ago which netted about a gallon and a half of whiskey. Three half gallon jars had been thrown from a window and broken before the police could prevent it. Officers removed a quantity of liquor being carried in the Terrell boarding house on Monroe street and they hastened to the scene. When they arrived, Mr. and Mrs. Currie got busy throwing jars from the window. Terrell was at work at the time.

Elissa Kidd, colored, fined $10 and costs for not having proper lights on his machine. William Burch, also charged with operating his car without proper lights, paid the cost of the warrant, $1.50.

J. E. Crist fined $21 and costs for exceeding the speed limit.

—Miss Carrie Lawless of New York City who has been visiting her father and mother off West Main street, when she came here on account of illness of her sister, Mrs. Birtha Lawless Royal who is in Edmunds Hospital, has returned to New York. Mrs. Royal was operated on ten days ago and is doing nicely.

Senator Claude A. Swanson, who has been visiting at his old home at Swansonsville for the past few days, will leave for Washington probably on Friday night on account of having an important committee meeting in the capital on the following day.

William M. Perry, for ten years county farm demonstration agent in Pittsylvania, will sail tomorrow from Hampton Roads on a government transport for his new post at St. Croix, Virgin Islands. Mr. Perry only recently was appointed a member of the Department of Agriculture's horticultural staff now established in the possession purchased from Denmark, and he will devote his time to making a study of the fruit and vegetable growing possibilities in that fertile spot. Mr. Perry, since it became known that he was leaving, has been the recipient of numerous expressions from the people among whom he has labored, expressing regret over his going.

A large party of Danville Kiwanis will leave this afternoon for South Boston to be present at the "charter night" ceremony of the newly-established club in the Halifax county town. Governor E. W. Lintner, of Wilmington, Del., of the Capital District, which embraces this section, was here this morning, also H. E. Turner, secretary of the Capital District, a well-known Norfolk newspaperman. These officials will be joined by eight or ten Danville Kiwanis, who will attend the South Boston meeting tonight, lending a hand in the launching of the new club.

The wrestling match between Joe Turner, of Washington, and Fritz Hansen, which was to have been staged here Thursday night, has been set for Saturday night. This will be under the auspices of the American Legion. Turner could not get here Thursday and as Friday's circus was expected to cut into the attendance, Saturday was agreed on. The main bout is to begin at eight, preceded by a number of amateur bouts.

SUPPLY OF PLANTS ADEQUATE SAYS AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

BY GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent Of Bee.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 8.—Although some damage to tobacco plant beds has been reported from Virginia, growers are rapidly preparing the ground for planting and in most of the heavy growing districts the supply of plants will be ample and adequate for the planting of an increase decrease, according to the semi-monthly report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Very little corn has yet been planted except in the extreme south, but plowing for the crop is well under way. Seeding of oats is about started in Virginia and neighboring states, and early sown oats are coming up in southern sections.

Planting of potatoes is nearly completed in all southern areas and the crop is making fair progress in commercial localities. The apple crop generally seems to have come through the spring frozes safely, and the prospects, especially in the commercial apple belts, are promising.

General agricultural conditions reported from the entire country indicate a fairly successful year for all leading crops. Farm labor continues scarce in nearly all sections and a steady movement from the farms is reported. The scarcity is being felt keenly in many sections and apparently will act as a brake, to some extent, on intended increases in acreage.

Winter wheat is still backward but has made considerable improvement during the last two weeks in the country as a whole. It shows considerable injury from winter killing in the central valleys. There will be much abandonment of acreage in some of the states west of Mississippi. Drought has been broken in most of the dry areas and rains in many sections have greatly improved conditions.

Rye also has suffered some from winter killing but is on the whole in good condition, and is making an excellent growth of late. In a few southern areas winter oats are now heading. The seeding of spring grains has continued and weather conditions have been favorable both for seeding and, in southern areas, for the growth of the plant. Seeding is nearly complete except in the north. There has been a large abandonment of acreage in the southwest due to freezing of the young plant, but prospects for the crop now seem excellent.

Corn planting has made rapid progress of late in the more southern areas of the belt and the preparation of the ground has been pushed. The crop is ready for cultivation in sections of the extreme south.

Stands of cotton are reported to be good in early planted sections, and chopping has begun in southern areas of the belt. Planting, while still backward, has advanced rapidly of late and increased acreages are indicated in many areas.

Peaches are reported from many areas to have suffered severe injury from frozes of March and April and the production in many sections in the south will be curtailed. Plums and cherries also were hurt and show poor prospects generally in the same regions.

Meadows and pastures are backward in all sections, though they have made considerable progress of late but are not yet affording the usual amount of grazing for the season. Clover and alfalfa show the effect of winter killing in many areas.

Livestock in general is in good condition although cattle, horses and mules are in poor flesh in some states from late pastures.

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1923.

HOT SUMMER

This summer will be a hot one, despite the late spring which has been caused by the sun giving off 4 per cent less heat than normally. So predicts Dr. Charles F. Brooks, the astronomer.

The reduced heat of the sun was to be expected, says Dr. Brooks, as a customary part of the "11-year sun spot period" which reached its greatest development in 1917 and recedes to its lowest point in 1923.

Brooks points out that the sun every 11 years normally goes through a period of excessive activity and then a recession from it. When Old Sol is hitting on all cylinders, sun spots appear. These warm when the sun slows down and its engine cools. Not scientific terminology, but we trust we've interpreted it as it is understandable by the millions who are tremendously interested in the weather, but haven't time to "study up" on astronomy.

These spurts of activity (increased heat followed by subnormal heat) are staged by the sun every 11 years.

There was an abnormal radiation of heat from the sun in 1906 the same as 11 years later in 1917.

The next cycle will have its climax in 1923.

Dr. Brooks says: "There is a paradox that the cooler the sun the warmer the earth." The period of sun spot maximum is one to two degrees cooler than otherwise."

One scientific explanation is that when the sun has a mild chill, as at present, its ultra-violet rays have greater opportunity to escape through the sun's atmosphere. These ultraviolet rays form a blanket of ozone around the earth, far overhead. This ozone blanket absorbs and holds much of the heat which the earth radiates or gives off. (The radiation is what makes the nights cool even after a hot day.) The earth's heat starts returning back into space and the ozone blanket tends to keep it near us, the same as a thermos bottle.

So, says Dr. Brooks, there probably is at present a reduced loss of the earth's heat in space, despite a reduction of the amount of heat we're receiving from the sun. The ozone formed overhead by nature to counteract the sun's chill, works like asbestos around a steam pipe.

The net result," Dr. Brooks concludes, referring to the coming summer, "should be a higher temperature, considering the world as a whole, than at the time a year or two ago when the heat received was greater."

Even the facetious who say, "Ain't nacher wonderful!" will have to marvel at nature's marvelous system of checks and balances, revealed in this ozone insulation now forming above our head to compensate for reduced sun-heat and keep us from acute suffering.

Perry's Analysis Of Columbia's Defeat Saturday

By LAWRENCE PERRY.
(Copyright, 1923, by The Bee.)

NEW YORK, May 8.—The significance of Yale's unexpected defeat of Columbia and Pennsylvania on the Stouffville is international. It means that the English style of sweep-winning golf is not the ideal for Americans. The English style of sweep-winning golf is not the ideal for Americans. It was, unwise, it was inhumane to ask four young men, most of whom had never sat in a boat until they entered college to take part in the English style of sweep-winning golf. HOLLYWOOD, May 8.—It has become a happy custom of the Vampas—Western Motion Picture Advertisers' Association, if you must have it in full—to present thirteen comedies in the movies at their annual picnic. The Ebbly Stars of the year.

To appreciate the full benefit of the star-picking picnic, and then to see the comedies, you must know that the Vampas are those who make the movies. They are the ones who make the movies. They are the ones who make the movies.

The Vampas' constellation for 1923 is a good one. It includes some of the best of the year. It includes some of the best of the year. It includes some of the best of the year.

EVELYN BRENT, born in Tampa, Fla., first appeared in Metro pictures and now with Douglas Fairbanks, under long contract. Mary Pickford calls her perfect screen beauty. First appeared on stage at age of 14.

DERELYS PERDUE of Kansas City. She started bits with old Fox Film company. Now one of most promising of younger leading ladies in Robertson-Cole productions.

MARGARET LEAHY, a Londoner who was "found" by Norma Talmadge recently after considerable experience with English and French companies. Now appearing with Buster Keaton.

VIRGINIA BROWNE FAIRE comes from an old New York family. Her striking beauty caught attention of eastern film directors and she made her debut with the Metro Corporation.

ETHEL SHANNON

She is under contract with First National.

DOROTHY DEVORE hails from Fort Worth, Tex. Coming to Hollywood determined to enter films she was given a try-out by Al Christie. She made good at a time, and is regarded as one of the promising young prodigies of the Christie comedies.

ELEANOR BOARDMAN is a Quaker girl with both serene and stage experience. From high school amateur performances she jumped to the speaking stage via a sock company, from which she found her way to the Goldwyn studio at Culver City, where she is held in high esteem.

and then moved over to the Universal lot where she has been playing leads. Kansas City sustained a great loss.

KATHLEEN KEY from Buffalo has a smile (see photo) which opened the doors of Hollywood to her on sight. Her first parts were with Thomas H. Ince. Now she's on the road to stardom under Goldwyn direction.

JOBINA RALSTON is one of Tennessee's choicest products. She is displaying the naive charm of her native Cumberland through the medium of Harold Lloyd comedies. Got into films because no one had the heart to keep her out.

BETTY FRANCISCO is one of those perfect natural blondes who have a the open sesame to flicker-land. "Eyes hair and other features blend perfectly," says her particular Vampas Jesse D. Hampton found her. Goldwyn has her.

HELEN LYNCH scores heavily for Billings, Montana. She began at the bottom of the ladder on the Lasky lot and has been rapidly forging toward the top. Lasky directors are giving her every opportunity to express a variety of talent, to say nothing of looks.

PAULINE GARON came to Los Angeles from Canada with her family, and no particular desire to enter movies. Selected for a small part with First National, she photographed so well and exhibited such promise that she was persuaded by contract to remain. A real baby star.

ETHEL SHANNON is still Irish despite long residence in Denver. Hollywood hailed her with delight. She made her initial bow with Metro, and is now being directed by B. P. Shubert in a Perfect Pictures career.

Princeton Picked As Best Ball Club of the Big Three

BY WALTER CAMP
(Special Correspondent of The Bee.)
(Copyright, 1923, by The Bee.)

NEW YORK, May 8.—One more old contention over how long a golf ball stays on the clubhouse has been revived. Several writers seem to have thought they made a new discovery in stating that the time is only a fraction of a second.

A newly a decade ago, the writer took up the matter as well as other in connection with golf, with Frank Gillbreath, "the wonderful time-study expert." Photographs were made of golf balls in the air, and others, and one of the most interesting of the demonstrations proved the fact that the clubhouse is in contact with the ball a much shorter time than anyone supposed.

The pictures were taken of an actual drive with a high speed camera. They showed the clubhouse apparently resting on the tee as though the performer had simply held his club against it. The clubhouse, in other words, so rapid was the spring of the ball off the clubhouse that the club had apparently not moved at all at meeting the ball.

In spite of the complicated situation in college baseball, Princeton looks the best of the so-called Big Three. The Tiger Nine is playing steady and more consistent than either of the other two.

The coaches at Yale have been considerably worried by what they call the "going back" of the Eli team, as evidenced in the defeats by Tufts and Dartmouth. In spite of the many changes, the power and stamina of old seem to have disappeared. The coaches were depending upon the Penn game to reveal the effect of the changes, but that game was prevented by rain and it is now necessary to wait further in time. The postponement of the game was a handicap in that the coaches expected Penn to bring out the fight in Yale.

Harvard is erratic, but has a good deal of power and some clean up hitters. The whole thing, though, Princeton appears to be in the lead.

DUCHY TO HAVE AN ARMY OF 500

(By The Associated Press.)

BRUSSELS, May 7.—The Journal d'Esch announces that the grand duchy of Luxembourg is about to recognize its army. It is no longer to be regarded as a joke and treated as a pretext for arraying a baker's dozen of good looking men in picturesque uniforms so that they make a bit of a show when the army is mustered for ceremonial occasions.

But it will cause no trembling among foreign potentates. The whole army will consist of only about 500 men, but they will be real soldiers and equipped as such. When the grand duchess was born recently, the necessary salute to herald the new arrival was fired with guns that had to be borrowed from France. The new army will at least save the duchy from a repetition of that humiliation. Every soldier will be given a gun and will be taught how to handle it.

By the new organization, the soldiers will serve four years, and a reserve of 1,400 will be formed.

Seven Americans Safely Through The First Round

(By The Associated Press.)

DEAL, England, May 7.—Seven Americans passed safely through the first round of the British Amateur golf championship today. Five others who came across seas hopeful of taking back with them the British title, were down to defeat. Two others of the team, David Herron, and Dr. O. F. Willing, will not get started until tomorrow.

Numbered among the 72 ambitious amateurs who failed today were Jess Sweetser, the American champion, and Robert A. Gardner, captain of the American team, on whom high hopes had rested. Neither man played well in the wind that was blowing today—a wind that killed many fond dreams.

Those of the Americans who won their matches are Francis Ouimet, of Boston, now the lone member of America's "big three" remaining in the tournament; George V. Roan, the Texas amateur champion, who breezed along recording par or birdies all the way; and Maxwell R. Johnston, of St. Paul, Fred Wright, Jr., of Los Angeles, John E. Neville, of San Francisco and Robert Hunter.

Ouimet's game did not rise to the heights where it has risen to in the past. He was out of the gallery and wound the spool of an opponent; but it was good enough to do what he set out to do—to defeat a grey-haired, rather slim gentleman whom fate had named as the first obstacle to his path to the title. H. Read, of Sunningdale, Outimet won from Read four up and three to play, and just about the same moment that the Boston player was receiving congratulations from the vanquished, another American, Neville, was having a similar enjoyable experience. It was a noble Lord Viscount Maidstone, the commoner from California, crushed five up and four to play. The vigorous young "Jimmy" Johnston never bated a hair about the terrible gusts of the channel that seemed so much to irritate Sweetser. Johnston was one under four for eleven holes and that was all he had to play today, as by that time he was nine up on his opponent, H. S. Holden.

Roan rushed through almost as rapidly. Perhaps he would have attained Johnston's speed had he not lost the third hole, where he had seven, or had he been as badly bunkered on the fifth, where he took six to sink his ball. But the rest of the round Roan romped along like a record setter, picking up a half-dozen three on the way to Sandwich between his four. He was out in 38 and was one under four on the last five holes.

Max Marston also had an easy time in defeating Lieutenant Commander Guy Miller. Up and five to play. Wright, however, had a bit of difficulty in brushing his veteran opponent, Commander Bannerman, a task he completed only upon the home hole.

The sidetracking of Sweetser and Gardner constituted the sad story of the day. Sweetser was soundly knocked out of the tournament by Noel Layton of the Royal Cinque Ports Club, who writes golf for magazines and knows every golf course and hole in the game. Layton disposed of Sweetser by a score of 5 and three.

Gardner had the satisfaction of going all the way to the 15th hole before passing out, two down. G. D. Forester, his opponent, once was captain of the Oxford golfers and after graduation went to India where in 1921 he won the championship of the colony. Gardner during the play could not make his iron behave and his putter would not go down as he would have liked them to go. The Arner can was two down at the fourth, but he pulled himself together and at the turn was one up. Forester evened things at the tenth and then the Arner changed several times up to the 14th, after which Gardner could not

GODFREY GIVEN HIS RELEASE BY M. G. R. MURPHY

Pitcher Godfrey was turned loose yesterday by Manager Murphy just before he left for the team for Greensboro. The releasing of Godfrey will make room for Pitcher Jearm, of Newark, N. J., ordered to report in Greensboro yesterday.

Rain halted the game yesterday in Greensboro with the score tied 1 and 1, the umpires calling a halt in the fourth the downpour got to heavy to continue.

It is probable that Allison will get back into the team this week. It is Manager Murphy is faced with the question of releasing a class man Smith, playing at first, in Allison's place, is a class man. Just what course Murphy will pursue is not known. It is rumored that he may become a bench manager. This much is certain, if Murphy believes it is to the best interests of the team to keep Smith he will do that very thing and retire. On the other hand, Murphy is a rightly valuable man in the infield. He furnishes experience and balance, is a splendid hitter and is an alert field general. His decision in this matter will be forced in the next few days, and will be watched with much interest.

Comment is being made in all the papers in the league cities over the showing of Dorman, shortstop for Danville this year. Last year Dorman was with Greensboro. He made no great record, though he was considered fair enough fielder. This year he is burning things up, not only in the field but at the bat. Last year, his average was around .360 and is leading the Danville club by a goodly margin.

SPAIN WANTS 28,000 TEACHERS

MADRID, May 7.—The Spanish nation finds extreme difficulty in obtaining elementary school teachers of whom a further 28,000 are required in order to provide the millions of illiterate children with education.

The reason for the shortage is the small salary offered to elementary school teachers, who begin with only 2,000 pesetas yearly, and may with great good luck reach 2,500 after 25 years' service. There are naturally some posts in the profession which are better paid, but these are few and far between, numbering only 142. The highest paid is remunerated with 8,000 pesetas yearly.

GREENSBORO-DANVILLE GAME IS RAINED-OUT

Greensboro, May 7.—The game between Danville and the Patriots here this afternoon was halted at the end of the fourth inning on account of rain. Each side had scored one run and both pitchers, Gibson for Danville and Cross for the locals were going good. Weather permitted the two teams will play tomorrow afternoon.

When the horse-car squealed aloud

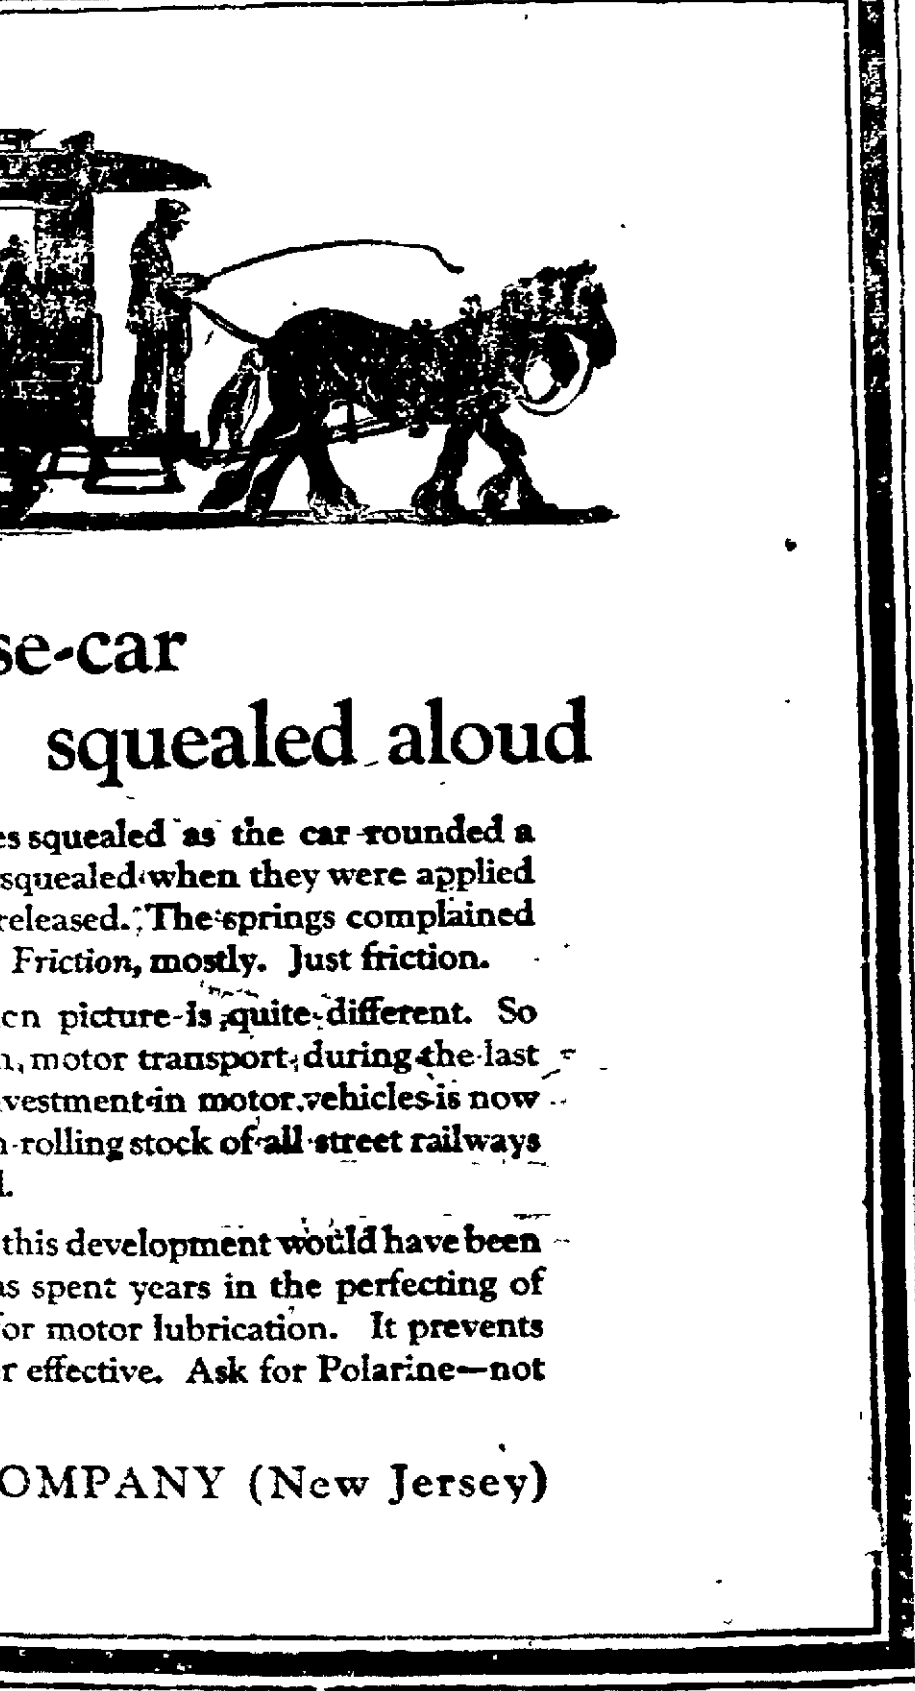

REMEMBER it? The flanges squealed as the car rounded a curve. The hand-brakes squealed when they were applied and groaned when they were released. The springs complained always. What was the matter? Friction, mostly. Just friction.

Now in 1923, the transportation picture is quite different. So great has been the increase in motor transport during the last ten years that the country's investment in motor vehicles is now greater than the investment in rolling stock of all street railways and steam railroads combined.

Without improved lubrication this development would have been impossible. This company has spent years in the perfecting of Polarine, the "Standard" oil for motor lubrication. It prevents wear and makes all the power effective. Ask for Polarine—not "a quart of oil."

INDIAN NATION SUES GOVERNMENT

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 7.—Suit for $700,000,000 against the government was filed today by the Great Sioux Indian Nation. Involving the largest sum ever sought through judicial action, the suit filed in the court of claims, specifies forty counts dating from the treaties of 1851 and 1868, declaring millions of acres of land has been illegally taken from the Indians, their property destroyed, and their lands improperly expended by the government.
An accounting by the government was asked under all treaties and acts of Congress dealing with the Sioux.

GOLF IN THE OLD DAYS

VEACH ON MARKET IS LATEST REPORT ON VETERAN STAR

DETROIT, May 7.—Is Detroit planning to make a trade that will send Bob Veach to some other club? Reports from the South have it that Veach's in disfavor with the Tiger management. Seldom is a veteran benchwarmer in training season, yet that has happened to Veach. While Veach is far from a finished fielder, and has the habit of throwing the ball to the wrong base, he certainly can hit the old apple. As a matter of fact, Veach is one of the few old-time sluggers left. He takes a healthy swing at every ball regardless of whether it is a fast or slow one.
No doubt a number of American League clubs would be willing to take a chance on Veach. If the Tigers decide to place him on the market, Cobb should be able to get some player or players worthwhile in return.
Some weeks ago it was practically settled that a deal involving Outfielder Flanagan would be made. Failure to put over the deal, which was all but completed some time ago, makes it seem that the possibility of Veach being traded has held up matters relative to Flanagan.

WEAK ARM MAY PROVE SERIOUS

PHILADELPHIA, May 7.—A weak throwing arm is liable to prove quite a serious handicap to "Wild" Matthews, called the sparkplug of Connie Mack's club by eastern critics. Matthews, secured by Mack from the Milwaukee club at a price said to be $20,000, is very fast, a great fielder and a hard man to pitch to at the plate.
About the size of Wee Willie Keeler, Matthews assumes a crouch when he steps to the plate that doesn't give the pitcher much of a target to shoot at.
However, Matthews' greatest asset is the fact that he is always hustling. He is all over the field, tries for every ball, and never stops running no matter how weary he may tap to the infield.
Unfortunately for Matthews he has a weak throwing arm. The eastern clubs of the American League, quick to note the fault, have taken advantage of the fact on the bases by running wild on all balls hit into his territory.
Matthews is a big leaguer in all things except throwing. It will be interesting to see if this one fault keeps him from holding down the berth of regular center fielder which Mack has allotted to him.

Kinks-o' the Links

At the lunch hour, workmen employed in the repair of the golf course permitted several wheel barrows to remain on one of the fairways. Driving from the tee a player shot finds its resting place in a wheel barrow, where it is finally discovered after much hunting for same. What is the proper procedure in such a situation?

The ball has the right to lift the ball and drop it without penalty. There is no reason why a player should suffer because of the negligence of an employee.
Has a player the right to change his club after taking his stance on the tee and addressing the ball? If he has, has such right is there any penalty attached to the change of clubs?
A player has a perfect right to change clubs at any time he desires. The fact that he has taken his stance and addressed the ball makes no difference. There is no penalty attached.

In teeing off is there any limit as to the height of the tee or the size of the mound used to raise the ball off the ground?

There is no limit as to the height of the tee. A great many beginners, in order to keep from missing the ball, use a tee that is too high, thereby keeping them from getting much distance to their drives. Sand is the usual substance used when teeing off, but the rules do not definitely state that sand must be used. If a player desires he can place the ball on the ground when teeing off.

In a golf match in which a referee and umpire are in charge of the play, what are considered the duties of each official?
The umpire decides all questions of fact, while the referee decides all questions of golfing law.

When is a ball considered "in play" in golf?

A ball is in play as soon as the player has made a stroke at the ball, and is in play until it is holed out, except when lifted in accordance with the rules.

How many times has John Ball, the famous English golfer, won the British amateur championship? In what year did he win his first title and when did he annex both the British open and amateur championships, considered a very extraordinary feat.

Player makes a 20-foot putt that is very accurate. The ball seems certain to drop in, but hangs on the lip of the cup and hesitates for an instant. It seems that the player will have to take another stroke to sink his ball, but as he takes a step toward the ball, which has been hovering on the very edge of the cup, it falls in. Must the ball drop into the cup instantly or does the player still benefit if the hesitating ball falls into the cup?

Very often a ball hesitates on the very brink of the cup. If the ball drops in almost instantly then the player does not need to use another shot to complete the hole. However, the player is not allowed to delay his shot in the hope that his ball may finally fall into the cup.

WRESTLING BOUT NEXT SATURDAY

The American Legion wrestling bout between Fritz Hansen and Joe Turner, scheduled for Thursday night has been postponed until Saturday night because Turner could not reach here on the day fixed. It is thought that the change will enable more people to attend the match, which promises to be the premier event of the wrestling season. Both instantly famous wrestlers of the world, and it goes without saying that the event will be worth the money.

DEMPSEY-TOM GIBBONS BOUT IS CERTAINTY

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, May 7.—With the posting of a $25,000 forfeit, Eddie Kane, manager of Tom Gibbons, St. Paul heavyweight, today fulfilled the challenger's contract, binding a championship match with Dempsey at a Shelby, Mo., town, on July 4th.
Kane plans to leave for St. Paul tomorrow to complete details preliminary to Gibbons' departure for the training camp. He hopes to engage Billy Maske, St. Paul heavyweight, as one of Gibbons' sparring partners. Maske fought Dempsey twice, knows his style, and Kane figures he will be a valuable assistant.
Kane will leave shortly on a four-day trip through the West, meeting all comers in all important towns in Utah, Montana and the Dakotas. He expects to be settled in training camp no later than May 17.
Mike Collins, matchmaker for the Montana promoters, left tonight for Minneapolis, en route to Shelby, to superintend the construction of an arena seating 40,000 and costing $50,000.

GANDER SENTINEL CHASES OFFICIAL

AKRON, Ohio, May 7.—Rather a roughneck bootlegger any time than a gander, sighs Norman Gilbert, Summit County deputy sheriff, as he recounted a recent experience. The sheriff sent Gilbert to an isolated section of the country to serve some papers.
While knocking at the kitchen door he heard a voice inside say, "Get him!"
Then he felt a blow in the back, turning he saw a huge gander—the biggest goose in the world—he ascertained. The bird chased the officer back to where his car was parked, a half mile from the house, and on the way snatched a large piece of cloth from the seat of Gilbert's trousers. He clung to him until the officer, armed with a shotgun, shot at him, then hissed a scornful farewell, as Gilbert drove away with the muffer open.
The papers were not served.

LAUNDRY MARK BE USED TO FIND NAME OF SUICIDE

RICHMOND, Va., May 7.—A torn and water soaked ticket bearing the name of a Newport News laundry is the clue by which the police hoped tonight to identify the body of an unknown man which was found in the James River near this city late today by the crew of the tugboat Laconia. The laundry ticket bears the name, "Smith" and that of the Akers Laundry of Newport News. Apparently the first initials of the names were torn from the slip, a corner of which is missing.
The man's clothing bore the initials "E. B. C." and the name of a Norfolk Clothing Store.
Police investigating the case said there were no marks of violence on the body and they were inclined to believe that the man met death by drowning. Apparently the body had been in the water about a week or ten days.
The man appeared to be about 55 years of age. His hair was gray and he weighed approximately 150 pounds.

SUGAR WRIT IS CONSIDERED BY CIRCUIT COURT

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 7.—The federal circuit court, of appeals today took under advisement the petition of the federal government for a temporary injunction to restrain the New York clearing association from trading in raw sugar futures, unless backed by actual ownership or control of the commodity.
The government's petition was for a preliminary injunction pending a final hearing of the question.
The case was taken under advisement after John W. Davis, former American ambassador to Great Britain, had presented arguments on behalf of the clearing association and after his arguments had been answered by counsel for the government.
The court denied application of counsel for the government to submit affidavits answering those submitted by counsel for the exchange today.
Mr. Davis asserted there was nothing on the government's petition to show that there was a conspiracy or an agreement or that there had been any restraint of foreign or interstate trade or commerce as a result of any alleged conspiracy or agreement.

SHIP CONCERNS TO MEET MAY 27

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 7.—The question whether permission should be granted the Boston Reserve Bank to establish an agency in Havana, Cuba, remained undecided tonight, but the federal reserve board, after a three-hour hearing, had in its possession a mass of data bearing on the Boston bank's application. The board, it was indicated, will act soon and it probably will establish a policy with respect to reserve bank extension.
The Atlanta Reserve Bank had had an application for permission to extend its operations in Cuba before the board since 1921 and, as a result of the two requests and the opposition raised against the Boston application it appeared that the board could consider them together.

Child-wives in Calcutta are estimated at 18,256. Of these, 14,000 are between ten and fifteen years of age.

FALLING BEAM INJURES TWO.
(By The Associated Press.)
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., May 7.—Horace Barker, 19, and Russell Kite, 21, were seriously injured late today when a falling beam, housing a six hundred pound steel floor beam at the Falmouth Bridge across the Rappahannock River, parted and hurled into the jagged rocks 30 feet below the bridge. One leg of the derelict fell on Kite while the frame struck Barker.
Both men were brought to a hospital here, but physicians tonight were unable to determine the full extent of their injuries.

A revolt— and a way out

THE GRIST O'GOTHAM

BY CASUAL STROLLER

NEW YORK, May 8.—The new battleground of Gotham aristocracy, Park Avenue, Fifth Avenue and Riverside Drive are fading. Ultra society has its exclusive little colony in Sutton Place, a high-toned slice in the shadow of Queensboro Bridge among the city houses and the smells of the East River.

Put the ultra rich are splurging in the magnificent new apartment buildings that line Park Avenue between 40th and 53rd streets. It's a made thoroughfare covering the railroad tracks into Grand Central Terminal. When you ride under there in the dark tunnel you get about as close as it is possible to get to the upper crust of New York. These apartment houses have all gone up within the last half dozen years. One apartment usually covers two floors. Rents reach $25,000 a year. Doormen that look like major generals guard the premises. Elevators reach each apartment.

The first exodus was out of Fifth Avenue. More than half the houses are always boarded up. More and more palaces along Riverside Drive are shuttered now, too. But pile after pile of moderate-priced apartments have been built. And you can get a Riverside Drive address without paying anything like the rent that's charged over on Park Avenue.

Kids in Brooklyn have invented a synthetic game of marbles. Bottle tops substitute for marbles. Those flat tin tops that come on bottles of near-beer and ginger ale. The kids play sidewalk golf with them. Placing the tops upside down on the pavement they shoot them with their thumbs toward a cack in the sidewalk. It's easy to shoot them close to the line. But a flip of the thumb just hard enough to shoot a bottle top the few inches is something that requires skill and finesse.

Are there any front yards left in Manhattan? Or the few the more famous include Charles M. Schwab's home in Riverside Drive and the Cargenie and Brick homes in Fifth Avenue. Schwab has the largest and most ostentatious, an entire block between Riverside Drive and West End Avenue and 72nd and 73rd streets.

The most mysterious yard is downtown, next to the old Jacob Worell home at Fifth Avenue and 9th street. A high board fence along Fifth Avenue hems in a yard said to have been originally designed for a pet dog's romping place. When Worell died he left $50,000 and his maid sisters who still live there though they are never seen and rarely ever go out have refused gigantic sums for the property.

Another sister was blind for years before her death. There was a strict injunction against a single article of furniture being moved a fraction of an inch in order that the blind woman could find her way around without trouble.

There is a block in Eighth Avenue that used to be a great big open lot on both sides of the street. Eleven restaurants in all, including one Greek, one Chinese and one German delicatessen, eight on one side and three on the other. The block is between 33rd and 34th streets. Patrons come from the post office, Pennsylvania terminal and office buildings.

Paradise can be found in New York. Just a tiny bit of paradise. It is the smallest public park in the city, a triangle of asphalt about nine feet on each side. A pump stands on it, and there used to be a tree but now only a crack in the asphalt marks its site. The spot is at Baxter and Worth streets near Mulberry Bend in the Italian quarter. Officially it is called Paradise Park.

Heard in a Broadway dance palace. A bookish looking New Englander was dancing with a dapper, Do you said he bravely making conversation "like Kipling?"

"Don't know," she replied swaying to the rhythm. "I never did learn to kiple. What kind of a step is it?" Anything like riding?"

The students, however, don't spend all their time in physical labor. For half of their course must be spent in pursuing the academic branches of the high school curriculum. This is accomplished during the inclement weather.

Here's Brand New Theory to Puzzle Over

DR. WILLIAM DUANE

WASHINGTON, May 8.—All who understood the Einstein theory may now get busy with the quantum theory. One as simple as the other.

Reckless it pays to understand the quantum theory. Dr. William Duane, learned scientist of Harvard University, has been awarded $25,000 for his investigations into the theory, by the National Academy of Sciences. The money represents the Comstock prize awarded once every five years for scientific discovery.

The quantum theory deals with atomic structure and the radiation of light. Hereafter it had been accepted that a light wave and a radio wave radiated similarly. But Dr. Duane says his investigations prove the contrary.

Energy released from atoms in the form of light waves, once out in definite "dribbles" or "quanta," Dr. Duane says. Radio waves resemble the waves created on a quiet pool of water when a pebble is tossed there.

Simple, isn't it? But although Dr. Duane has won many to his way of thinking, other noted scientists disagree, which leaves the matter slightly confused to ordinary mortals.

L. Percy Wilkinson, of Grand street, who was removed to the General hospital Sunday for an operation for appendicitis, is reported this morning as getting on nicely.

This afternoon's fortnightly luncheon of the Danville Rotary Club held at the Burton Hotel was featured by a telephone switchboard demonstration which was staged by Rotarian H. O. Jones. Local business men for the telephone and Potomac Telephone Company. In the dining room a section of a telephone switchboard was erected and operators were on hand and Mr. Jones explained the various problems which the telephone operator has to meet. The exhibition impressed on the Rotarians the complexities of life in a telephone exchange and was a eloquent plea for patience and cooperation with the telephone operator. H. R. Fitzgerald, president of the club who is spending up Rotarian activities, presided.

Notwithstanding reports from Washington saying that there is no shortage of tobacco plants, many of the growers of this section continue to complain of the hay or wrought by the continued chill nights and mornings which has stunted growth. In many instances farmers were compelled to cut their tobacco buds as a result of the late frosts. Tobacco files also are reported to be numerous this year and a further problem for the farmer to meet is the lack of farm labor.

Radio fans in Danville will tune in early today for "Radio Hempel," famous singer who was heard in Danville a couple of months ago in the masterpiece "Home Sweet Home." Today marks the centenary of the first sinking of the internationally famous ship at Covent Garden. The opera singing will sing to a million listeners tonight at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel studios of the Westinghouse radio station. WJZ. It is understood that the singing at the Danville station time which will be eight o'clock Danville time.

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Forum of Epiphany church was held Monday evening at the Burton Hotel where supper was served. Various matters were discussed and a brief history given of the Bible class which was organized in May 1922, read by the secretary, Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor, rector, made an address during the evening. Captain Carter, of the U. S. I. cutter, also made an address making an appeal for Christian fellowship. A large majority of the class was present.

Danville will observe Mothers Day services according to the annual custom next Sunday. It is proposed to have the services at the Fairgrounds at three o'clock in the afternoon. The various Bible classes of men to march from their respective churches to the hall. Special music will be afforded and the speakers on the occasion will be announced between now and the end of the week, according to E. G. Mosley who has charge of the arrangements.

Local leaf dealers have been advised that in the recent disastrous fire in the bonded tobacco warehouse in London between five and six thousand households of Virginia tobacco was destroyed.

The graduation of Mr. Julian Skinnell, master, will be given at the Danville High School this evening at 8:30 o'clock. Beethoven's Appassionata Sonata, a Chacon group and some modern compositions will be featured. The public is cordially invited.

ST. PAUL, May 7.—Reading and writing and rhythmic have been recognized as the foundation of education.

But students at the South St. Paul High School are building their educational foundation of cement—and setting houses on the foundation besides.

Book learning may be all right the teachers agreed, but when the students demanded more practical education they decided to do it in their own way. This is what the students have accomplished during the last three years.

Built and completely equipped three model homes on a fourth.

Constructed a number of garages.

Wired half a dozen homes for electricity.

In addition to this, they've remodeled several dwellings.

REAL HOUSES, TOO

All the houses are built for real estate of the community. The owner of the material, the students.

The students start at the bottom, and the rough labor is spared them. First comes the excavating for the basement and then the construction of the foundation.

Next comes the framework and so on. The houses are completed. Refrigerators are installed, the electric wiring is done, the plumbing is installed and the houses are ready for occupancy.

The houses include the necessary plumbing and heating and the students are proud of their work.
